First Woman Named As Arcadia Planner

ARCADIA — Mrs. Harry R. Lauber is the first woman to be appointed to the Arcadia Planning Commission. She was named to the post by the City Council Tuesday evening.

Councilman Jess Balser nominated Mrs. Lauber to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Roger Turner.

Mrs. Lauber has been an Arcadia resident for the past eight years. The Laubers live at 1111 Magnolia Lane.

The new planning commissioner is currently a member of the Arcadia Personnel Board. She is president of the Arcadia Woman's Club, a member of Altrusa Club, and a former director of a Girl Scout summer camp.

She has a background of 12 years business experience in field of engineering and electronics, and was supervisor for nine years with a Pasadena engineering firm, and served as vice president of the company's credit union.

Her term will expire June 30, 1969.
